Zoos

1 Bioparc Fuengirola

Mónica Diez : It is not the first time that I have walked into this park and it always surprises me. You must go to this park in Valencia if you ever have the opportunity. It is a new concept of zoo where you integrate the entry in the jungles of Asia, Madagascar, ... where all the animals are in their natural habitat and where visitors feel like part of the environment as a luxury tourist. Not only do they take good care of the facilities, but also for its ambitious plan to repopulate endangered species that breed here, as the park is within a European program of captive breeding. It is an environment that is worth visiting, and a different time of day for different lighting environments and animals with different biorhythms. In summer they also have the night pass where you can see animals asleep at night! Enjoy!

Wyly_fox: You can see animals from so close up that it's

Castles

2 Sohail Castle, Fuengirola

Mónica Diez : It's a great vantage point from which to see the whole Mediterranean. Only the outer walls and battlements remain, but throughout the year there are festivals and events. If you go through Fuengirola and have time, take a walk inside a piece of history. It's also worth walking by the outside through the pines, or along the promenade with its silhouette cutting the horizon. If you're able to go on a sunny day, go sunbathing in the sun on the Costa del Sol, you'll relax watching the contrast between the blue sky and the sea. Recommended.

Beaches

3 Fuengirola

"Dio" Rubio: Beautiful city, beautiful places and charming. There are places to enjoy a good walk, a good meal or just sit on a terrace in the sun to drink a cold beer or summer wine accompanied by kebabs of fresh sardines. Location and leisure, cultural and bohemia. Essential city to visit, and very clean streets and monuments decorated with flowers. No doubt all due to a very professional management by the City Council. My most sincere congratulations. A beautiful city!

Festivals

4 Fuengirola Fair

Marta Padilla: I finally had the pleasure of being at an Andalusian Fair. They celebrated the famous fair of Fuengirola and luckily I was taken to see it. I spent an unforgettable night there with my fellow Minube friends and the Costa del Sol. I can't stress enough the wide variety of booths and clubs. You can't get bored in this place. We ended the party at the rock of the Andalusians live listening to the "rockers embedded"

Of Cultural Interest

5 Bridge of the Spanish Navy

Marilo Marb: Next to the Parque del Castillo Sohail in Fuengirola, they have recently built a footbridge over the River Fuengirola. Its design is very modern, the typical suspension bridge with the central base of concrete and steel braces. The best part is the environment, with the castle on one side and the beach on the other. This bridge was inaugurated last year, linking the seafront with the castle.

Beaches

6 El Castillo-Ejido Beach

Marilo Marb: The Ejido Castle Beach is before crossing the River Fuengirola, near the Castle of Sohail, and is part of the great Fuengirola Beach. The beach isn't wide, and, like most beaches on the Costa del Sol, there aren't any steep slopes or cliffs. Although there is a large Hotel-Spa next door, the beach never feels full of people because of its large size. The sand is fine and the sea inlet is shallow sea. Since it's an open beach, sunbathing can be annoying on windy days. Being attached to the mouth of the Rio Fuengirola, it's also a good place for fishing in winter. The beach has all the services offered by the city of Fuengirola, with showers, toilets, tide information, and a snack bar where you can have a beer on a beautiful day.

Beaches

7 The Boliches Beach

Chaimae: The beach is located between the Boliches Playa de Las Gaviotas and Fuengirola. It is an urban beach with fine dark sand and calm waters, and it also has sports facilities. The beach stretches for approximately 1km is 40meters wide. Surrounding the beach there are restaurants, hotels and a busy promenade, where you can access the beach from. At the entrance of the beach, in the middle of the path, there is a slightly curious monument: The Monument for the Peseta

1 Restaurants
Bikini Beach Restaurant & Beach Snack Bar

"Dio" Rubio: This is a really interesting place. The staff is very helpful and nice. You can have a coffee or a great Mojito while listening to good live music. You can sunbathe on a lounge or eat paella on the terrace, watching the Mediterranean Sea. You can admire the great Moorish castle, or enjoy a great day with family or friends. There's no noise here. It's undoubtedly an Andalusian corner worthy of recommendation. If you visit, you'll be sure to love it!!

Marilo Marb: On the promenade of Fuengirola, just below the Castle of Sohail, you will find the Snack Bikini Beach. It's a fantastic place to eat or have a refreshing cold beer after a day of sun and sand. The menu is varied, and the prices are normal for the area. In its terrace overlooking the sea you can relax while listening to good music. They also organize musical evenings with live bands.

3 Restaurants
Zaika Restaurant

Marilo Marb: In the crowded promenade of Fuengirola, there's this Indian restaurant where you can taste typical dishes, while enjoying views of the beaches from the Promenade. The food is pretty good, especially the chicken tika masala, and lamb with vegetables. I recommend you ask for "medium spicy" because its flavor is still spicy. The added coconut bread adds variety, as well as cherries, which gives it a unique flavor. There's a menu of the day, where you can find a variety of popular Indian dishes. The prices are average and the atmosphere is very nice, especially if you reserve a table on the terrace. The service is fast and friendly, there's always something to consider.

4 Tapas Bars
Old London Bar

Marilo Marb: On the promenade of Fuengirola, in the heart of the Costa del Sol in Malaga you'll come across an English style bar. It's mainly dedicated to the live coverage of sport, it has several large screen television that are always showing live events. Its location is superb, right on the beach, with a terrace where you can get a drink or a beer in the sun. So yes, beer bottle almost better because the reeds serve almost no foam. Prices are reasonable for the area, a reed for 1.5€.

Nigel Lucas: With great food, exotic cocktails and fantastic staff, it has loads of sport on live, all premiership and champion league games, Draft Carling and John Smiths.

5 Restaurants
Taberna Plaza Vieja

Fabián Pedrero Gallego: This is the perfect beer, with a lot of variety and always chilly. The rations and tapas are large and of good quality. The black noodles are delicious, the toast is delicious, so is the shrimp tortilla, the "frituras", etc. It's all very good and of quality. It's next to the beach and is very nice and accessible. Good service.

6 Restaurants
Casa Flores

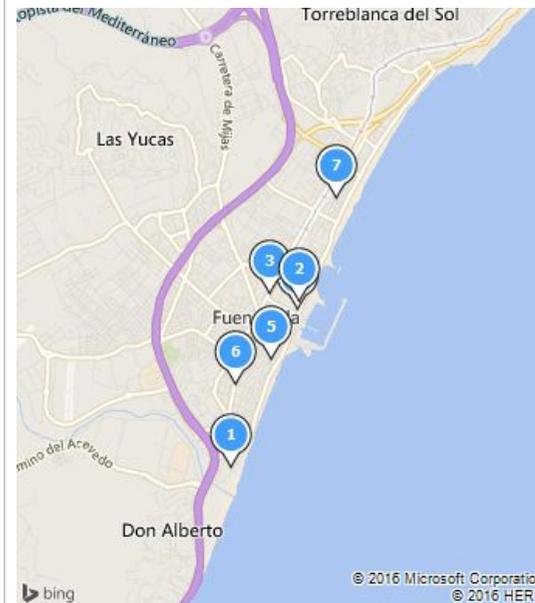

Marilo Marb: Popular tavern Casa Flores is an old fashioned tavern, where you can have a few beers or wines from Malaga, accompanied by some local seafood. It is in one of the central streets of Fuengirola, not far from the Plaza de la Constitucion and "Plaza de España". It is one of the oldest bars in the city; it is decorated like a tavern, with a long wooden bar and wine barrels - typical from Málaga. Prices are average.

El Paso Mexicano

manuel rodriguez montero: Created 25 years ago, this restaurant offers a lot of variety of Mexican dishes. There is a Mexican tequila show, live music, and great atmosphere. I recommend it, especially for groups, bachelor parties, birthdays, and anniversaries. The prices are popular and the dishes are sumptuous. Phenomenal guacamole, enchiladas, fajitas, and "piconela" dessert. You won't regret it.
